Subject: a few questions about your services

Good afternoon. I represent a German family that has accumulated various U.S.-issued documents over the past decade and we need to consolidate the international authentication. The most pressing matter is a real estate deed from California — the father purchased a vineyard in Napa in 2014 under a trust and we now need that deed apostilled for inclusion in his German estate filing because he passed away last month. There's only one signer relevant (his trustee, Walter Schmidt) and the notary in Munich has indicated she needs the apostille within 10 business days because the inheritance court has scheduling constraints.

Separately — though I understand this may be a different matter entirely — we also have his American marriage certificate (issued Cook County, Illinois, 1981) which the German court is also requesting. That one is not as urgent, we have approximately one month. Two signers were on the original (he and the decedent's now-deceased first wife) but I assume that doesn't matter for an apostille — the apostille is on the certificate itself, correct?

All documents need German translation. We have a sworn translator in Berlin if that helps, but if you can arrange the translation as part of your service that may be cleaner. Please advise on pricing for both matters together. Phone: +49 30 555 4422.

Best regards,
Hannah
